At first, there's just a cap hanging in the wardrobe. Then, picture by picture, further objects join the cap. The same principle happens with the table, which becomes covered with things, on, under, in, at, in front of, etc. With this picture card set, children in preschool and primary school can practice location prepositions and train their logical thinking skills. Fun for groups and individual work!

MINT for children: understanding colour mixing with the narrative track

A story to engage children, which combines narrative fun and experimenting: Cumulus, a cloud, falls into the sea and there meets three octopi. Each octopus is a different primary colour and each octopus in turn colours the cloud. The primary colours mix and become secondary colours! Children from 4 to 7 can guess which colours to mix, can mix secondary colours themselves, and experience with all their senses how orange, purple or green are created.

- an engaging story about a cloud that meets three octopi and how they mix their colours
- accompanying booklet with ready-to-use cut-out play figures for the narrative track, plus text and directions
- additional material to download, with further instructions and ideas for experimenting with children and art

Ready for primary school days! Picture cards prepare preschool children for primary school

These cheerful narrative cards help prepare preschool children for primary school by taking them on a tour of classrooms, the play-ground area and sports hall. They show how much fun is included in the daily schedule. Typical daily school life, various lesson subjects and rituals quickly become familiar. This not only eases the transition from preschool to primary school, it also makes children eager to begin school and experience it!

- picture cards all about primary school: learn about daily routines, lessons and rituals
- primary school preparation for educators in kindergartens and daycare centres
- for preschools which teach languages: narrative cards are ideal for children with migration backgrounds

Conjure up a delicious meal together, with colourful ingredients and the Kamishibai

Baking together is one of the loveliest events in the daily life of kindergarten. This activity succeeds even better with cup recipes on these picture cards, because each step can be completed by the children themselves. This encourages independence and many more skills. And along the way, conversations emerge naturally, about food and how people in other countries eat and live!

- delicious “theatre”: with these step-by-step picture cards, the recipes succeed perfectly
- for baking lessons in preschool, daycare or special-needs school, and at home

A Benno Bear story about appreciation for the narrative theatre

Benno Bear is very sad: his beloved Brummidium suddenly sounds very strange! To avoid their evening's musical entertainment from failing, all the friends get together and help. And while the animal chorus rehearses, the squirrel starts secretly "fiddling" with the sour-sounding accordion ... An enchanting animal story for the narrative theatre for children.

- making music together can take many forms: there are sounds and noises everywhere!
- try out creative ideas: also suited for inspiring conversations about self-efficacy and sustainability
- a wild friendship story for children
